Press release: Cardinephrology Congress will take place from 15th to 17th March in Rome

123 speakers and chairmen and more than 350 delegates will take part in a completely innovative Congress’s edition

Rome, 15th March 2017 – Cardinephrology Congress will take place from 15th to 17th March in Rome at NH Villa Carpegna. The meeting has the Italian Society of Nephrology Endorsement, under the auspices of the Cardinephrology study group. The event has also the auspices of the European Renal Association, the International Society of Nephrology, the Italian Society of Cardiovascular Ultrasound and the Italian Society of Anaesthesiology.

The Congress is divided into 14 scientific sessions, two luncheon symposia and two monothematic courses. More than 350 delegates and 123 speakers and chairmen will take part in the meeting. Among them there are many important personalities of the national and international scientific world such as Vicente E. Torres, director of Mayo Clinic Translational Polycystic Kidney Disease (PKD) Center - Rochester, Minnesota, Paolo Raggi, director of the Heart Institute of Alberta – Canada, Claudio Ronco, director of Nephrology Dialysis and Renal Transplantation Department of San Bortolo Hospital in Vicenza, Loreto Gesualdo, President of the Italian Society of Nephrology and so many others.

«The 2017 Congress edition takes place during the thirty anniversary of the first edition, organized by Mario Timio in 1987 – declared Doctor Luca Di Lullo, medical director of ASL Roma 5 and President of the Congress, in charge of the scientific board with Doctor Antonio Bellasi, medical director of ASST Lariana di Como, during an introductive video conference-. We have achieved many important targets since 1987 and the results are evident» as Luca Di Lullo concluded.
New parallel sessions, that allow participants to follow different topics simultaneously, and different subject are foreseen in this edition, such as heart disease that occur as the glomerular filtration rate decreases and link kidney and cardiovascular diseases and the close interactions between heart, kidney and lung together with nutritional aspects in cardio–renal patients.

Furthermore Cardionephrology 2017 will be 2.0. Thanks to the commitment of Fenicia Eventi, the company in charge of the logistical organization, a social room will be installed during the Congress and it will be in charge of the live coverage on the social media platforms of all the contents developed in the sessions. Participants can take part actively in the social room through the publishing of their comments, doubts and personal experiences, lived during the Congress, on their social media accounts. It is already possible to check information and new developments of the Congress consulting the web page, Facebook, Twitter and Instagram profile dedicated to the event. You can also type the hashtag #cardionefro2017 on your social media account to follow the newsfeed of everything related to the meeting.

Journalists, photojournalists and other professionals can get their accreditation to the event sending an email to communication@fenicia-events.eu and specifying the day/s they like to attend.

Contacts
Ilaria Petta
Press office Fenicia Eventi
http://fenicia-events.eu/
email:communication@fenicia-events.eu
Mobile phone: +39 333.3544282